INTRODUCTION

LANKA MAHAVIDYALAYA was established on the 20th July, 1979 in the northern outskirts of Lanka town which is situated in the southernmost part of the district of Hojai, Assam. Lanka is situated at a distance of about 180 Kms from Guwahati, the capital city of Assam and about 10Kms from Hojai, the district headquarter town. The site, where the college stand today spreads over an area of about 17 acres amid green surroundings. Lanka Mahavidyalaya is an affiliated college of Guwahati University and is listed under University Grants Commission (UGC), offers Higher Secondary (10+2) and Three-year degree courses in Arts and Commerce stream. Lanka being a backward area, there was no Institution of Higher Education within a distance of 20Kms. Of Lanka before the establishment of Lanka Mahavidyalaya and a vast majority of students could not afford higher education due to financial constraint. As the college committee has been exerting each sincere and untiring efforts to enlighten the economically and educationally backward people of area, the scenario has changed for the greater to a great extent.

The college started its mission with only 130 students at Lanka High School premises. It was shifted in 1982 to the present site which spread over a sprawling area amid green surrounding. At present the college is having a total strength of about 2127 enrolments which reflects the progress of the Institution of the day by day.

The college has been Accredited 'B' Grade by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) in February, 2005 and in November, 2015.
